Graacher Himmelreich Riesling Spätlese Dr. Heidemanns-Bergweiler/Bernkastel-Kues

Terrior	The terrior of the "Himmelreich" in Graach consists mainly of weathered medium-depth slate soil, combined with a low content of clay. The vineyard is located 110 to 260 meters above sea level and the slopes are steep throughout. The wines from this vineyard are full-bodied and juicy, and in some years also robust and noble. The appellation "Himmelreich" ("Kingdom of heaven") is named after the local cemetery where the vineyard's domain begins.
Description	The Graacher Himmelreich Riesling Spätlese is a ripe, fine wine, offering notes of apricot, licorice and spice. It's backed by lively acidity and stays persistent through the lingering aftertaste.
Suggestion	This wines is delicious with sea food and American fusion cuisine. Try it with a creamy lobster bisque or lobster chili.
Quality Level	Spätlese
Varietal	100% Riesling

We say:

"We love our wines from Graach. They are somewhere between the Badstube and the Doctorberg wines in terms of full body and complexity."
